EASTERN DATES TO SEPT 5

EASTERN STATES

Further from Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Sept 5 —The Convention was not called to order until 10 0 A M. It was understood at the hour fixed that there would be no official proceedings in the Convention until O Conor was definitely and finally heard from. The talk is current that Adams will be nominated for President if O Conor adheres to his declination. In that case there are various names mentioned in connection with the Vice Presidency.

At the opening of the Convention Kelley of Louisiana read a communication on behalf of his delegation justifying their withdrawal from the Convention on the grounds of the hopelessness of Democratic principles in consequence of the decided declination of O Conor and the confused condition of affairs.

Goodlitt offered a resolution to the effect that it was the duty of the Convention not to make another nomination but to appeal to the country to give the nominees the same support as if they had accepted. He supported the resolution in a brief speech.

Colonel Duncan at this point read the following dispatch dated this morning from John Quincy Adams:

"I will gladly serve as Vice President with O'Conor but will accept nothing else. O Conor must positively stand."

Morgan of Indiana moved to lay Goodlitt's resolution on the table. Lost.

Goodlitt's resolution was then adopted—54 to 30. It is as follows:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Convention that Charles O Conor of New York has cheerfully and heartily approved of the object and purposes of this Convention and having been unanimously nominated for President, and John Quincy Adams of Massachusetts for Vice President, the delegates of the Democratic party here assembled are unwilling to make any other nominations in their stead and that the Democratic party will give them in any event their undivided support.

Bayard from the committee on resolutions submitted a supplemental report embodying the resolutions opposing subsidies of public lands, favoring a judicious tariff for revenue only, and opposing class legislation under the plea of protection. Adopted.

A vote of thanks was given to President Lyons, and the Convention adjourned sine die.

After adjournment the delegates to the Convention resolved themselves into a mass meeting and speeches were made by Brick Pomeroy and several others.

Loss of Life by the Metis Disaster.

Bismarck

HIS LETTER TO MRS BISMARCK ON THE DAY AFTER SEDAN.

The Paris Figaro of the 5th instant contains a fac simile of a letter written by Prince Bismarck to his wife on the day after the Emperor's surrender at Sedan. M de Villemessant, in vouching for the authenticity of the document, states that it was found on a German courier, taken prisoner on the defiles of the Argonne. Its existence was unknown until it was brought to the office of the Figaro, where it is to be on view for a month. Subjoined is a translation:

VENDRESSE 3 September

My Dear Heart—On the day before yesterday, ere break of day, I quitted these quarters. To day I returned to them. In the interval I have witnessed the grand battle before Sedan on the 1st September where we made about thirty thousand prisoners. The rest of the French army, which we pursued from Bar le duc, we have thrown into the fortress where it has been compelled to surrender with the Emperor.

Yesterday morning at five o'clock—I had been up with M de Moltke and the French Generals deliberating on the terms of capitulation—I was woke up by General Reille, whom I know, and who came to say that Napoleon wished to speak with me.

Without washing myself or breakfasting, I mounted my horse and set off in the direction of Sedan. I encountered the Emperor, accompanied by three of his six aid-de-camp in a carriage, with six horses, which was pulled up on the road.

I dismounted and saluted him as politely as if he had been at the Tuileries, and asked what were his commands. He said he wished to see the King. I told him what was true—that His Majesty was three miles away, in the quarters from which I am writing you. He asked where he should present himself, and, as I was not familiar with the localities, I offered him my own quarters at Donchery, a small village on the banks of the Meuse, not far from Sedan. He accepted it, and started to proceed thither with his escort conducted by me and Charles, who had rejoined me in course of the morning.

At a short distance from where he had been, foreseeing that a crowd of curious people might assemble, he asked if he might [illegible] at a small artisan's cottage standing by the wayside. I sent Charles to inspect it, who reported that it was very poor and ill [illegible] for such a visitor. "No matter," said the Emperor, and we mounted a narrow, [illegible] stair-case into a chamber about ten feet square, furnished with a fir table and two rush bottomed chairs. We seated ourselves here for an hour—the Emperor and I—while the escort waited below. What a striking contrast with our last interview, in 1867, at the Tuileries.

Our conversation was difficult, for I did not wish to speak of things which might cause pain to one who had been cast down by the hand of the Almighty. I had sent to [illegible] to seek some officers and to beg M de Moltke to come. Afterwards we sent one of them forward to reconnoitre, and about half a mile ahead he discovered at Freshnoy a small chateau, with a park. Thither I conducted the Emperor, with an escort of Cuirassiers of the Guard, whom I had sent for while we were waiting. It is there that we concluded with General Wimpffen the capitulation, in virtue of which 40,000 to 60,000 Frenchmen (I do not know, as yet, the exact number) became our prisoners. The day before yesterday cost France 100,000 men and an Emperor.

To-day the latter set out with his suite, his horses, and his carriages, for Wilhelmshohe, near Cassel.

This is an historical event which interests the world at large. It is a victory for which we wish humbly to return thanks to God, and which will decide the war, even if we should oblige to continue fighting against France without the Emperor.

It is necessary that I should conclude. With heartfelt joy I learn to-day from your letters and those of Marie, about the arrival of Gerbert. I spoke yesterday with Bill, as I already telegraphed to you, and with M—, who has been thrown from horse in the ranks. He is well and happy. I have seen Hans, Fritz, Carl (some words illegible), Anlow—all well also.

Adieu, my Heart. Salute the children.

Thy B—

O'Conor and Adams

The Louisville Convention declined to present any other name than that of Charles O'Conor for President and resolved to adhere to him notwithstanding he had declined the nomination John Quincy Adams accepts the nomination for the Vice President and says that O'Conor must not be permitted to decline So undoubtedly O'Conor's name will be used and electoral tickets with O'Conor and Adams will be presented in many if not all the States Probably the ticket will receive a pretty large vote it may get enough to defeat Greeley in Kentucky Tennessee and Maryland and to make New York Indiana and Missouri entirely sure for Grant It is not improbable that the effect of it will be to prevent the Greeley ticket from getting a single electoral vote Grant and Wilson do not need any diversion from this quarter, for they could win against the united Democratic vote Recent elections demonstrate this Democrats perceive that they have gained no votes by taking Greeley and Brown, and that defeat is now certain hence multitudes will be likely either to cast their votes for O'Conor and Adams, or remain at home The Louisville ticket is one which had it been nominated by the Baltimore Convention, would have carried the entire vote of the Democratic party, and it may even now obtain more votes in some States than the Greeley and Brown ticket

Election of a Senator

We have heretofore remarked what great interest the Democratic press manifests in opposition to a Republican caucus for the nomination of a Senator These same journals only two years ago invoked the party caucus as the time honored and legitimate mode of proceeding on such occasions, and were sure that all good party men would not only justify but demand it But when Republicans now talk of a caucus some of the journals of this same party assert that such a proposition is "infamous," while others attempt to dissuade Republicans, by more adroit methods, from accepting it A short time since, in an article showing that the caucus on such occasions was a recognized party method, and that there was scarcely a Senator in Congress of either party who does not owe his elevation to it, we remarked that the caucus was brought into use in the election of Senator Corbett six years ago. The Herald denies this, and says there was no caucus The simple fact is that on the evening preceding his election there was a full meeting of the Republican members of both houses. Names are immaterial, call this meeting a caucus, conference consultation, or what you will. The term by which you designate it does not change its character After considerable deliberation all the Republican members agreed to support H W Corbett, and put their names to a paper to that effect On the following morning they met in joint convention and elected him Mr Corbett was accepted as a compromise candidate at a conference or caucus of the Republicans of the two houses No different method of stating the transaction can change the nature or character of it

A caucus had been held some days before, at which Governor Gibbs was nominated for Senator He was fairly and justly entitled to an election. The Republican party expected that, having received the caucus nomination, he would be chosen According to justice and party usage it belonged to him Three or four members, however, saw fit to stand out against him, and, day after day, prevented his election Finally a new conference or caucus was had, and all agreed to support Mr Corbett, and did so accordingly

Of course the disorganization of six years ago bore its fruit. A Republican Senator had, indeed, been secured, but the result was brought about through disorganization, and in its effect on the party it was equivalent to defeat, or perhaps worse A result brought about in such a way was a blow at the supremacy of the Republican organization Party usage had been overridden, party ties were loosened, and party vigor seriously impaired From that time the Republican party of Oregon fell into a minority, it lost the next election, the next and the next, and has but just recovered its ascendency through efforts more prodigious than were ever before put forth by any party in the State These are facts which no one can gainsay. Disorganization in the election of a Senator now would certainly yield like results again. Men of all parties understand this and herein we find the reason why our Democratic brethren are now so forward with suggestions and advice to Republicans respecting the present Senatorial election

The Republican party of Oregon has no strength to throw away by disorganization The strength of the two parties in the State is nearly at an equipoise Nothing but tremendous and unceasing exertions, continued night and day for months, carried the State last June Had the effort on the Republican side been no greater than no the Democratic no one would be justified in believing that the result would have been a Republican triumph With the strength of the parties so evenly balanced it will require careful work and prudent management to hold the State in the Republican column Party usage must be adhered to, disorganization avoided and combinations with Democrats for political purposes discountenanced Otherwise results will follow which will bear fruit in future Republican defeats The past affords lessons which may be pondered with profit If the Republican party, now for the first time in the ascendant for six years, does not wish to drop into a minority for six years more, it will avoid violation of party rules and disorganization The caucus is a universally recognized proceeding on occasions like this, and the candidate for the Senate who has a majority is justly entitled to an election That the caucus was set at defiance six years ago furnishes no reason why it should be set at defiance again especially when we remember that as one of the direct results of that transaction we lost succeeding elections, threw the whole State Government into Democratic hands and enabled that party to elect the next Senator and the Congressmen for two terms There should be a caucus, and its nominee whether he be Mr. Corbett, Mr Mitchell or some other candidate, should receive the whole party strength in the Legislature and should be elected

The Herald sneers at James Lyons who was named a day or two since as the probable candidate for President at Louisville, after O'Conor had declined The Greeley organ speaks with derision of the idea of nominating for President a man so obscure and unknown He is quite as well known as James K. Polk was when nominated

Young Men and the Republican Party

A good article on this subject was recently furnished by the Cincinnati Gazette Speaking of the personnel of the Democratic Greeley coalition that paper says that the Republican portion of it is wholly composed of veteran professional politicians who had held and pursued office until they had completely played out their chances in the Republican party Let every one consult his own observation and the accounts elsewhere and see the emphatic truth of this We hardly hear of any but of this sort They went for a new shuffle of parties because in the old they had no chance to come to the top again The secession carried off enough of those veterans of office seeking to take all the places in the new formation

On the other hand the men who met them to make this trade were the most worn veteran managers of the Democratic party who saw that the revolution must be fetched soon or it would be too late to do them any good, and who therefore were ready to trade their party for their personal chances All this foists upon the coalition and the reconstructed Democracy a great band of ancient veterans to take all the leading places and all the nominations It makes their motto "Put none but silver gray beards on guard" It causes them to look upon a young man as an enemy who if allowed to enter the official circle, will put the same notion into the heads of other young men and thus they will be turned out to grass again

All this leaves but a remote chance for young men in the coalition party This ostracism of young blood in a political party is a fatal sign And it is an excellent symptom of the vitality and continued growth of the Republican party that it gives a good chance to young men to enter public life and that it is the spent politicians, and not the young men, who leave it

The names of Charles O'Conor and John Quincy Adams constitute the Louisville ticket The thieves pimps gamblers forgers adulterers murderers rum lovers, negro haters, rebels, traitors, incendiaries and miscreants (vide New York Tribune for a complete catalogue) who support Greeley will try to bowl this ticket down, of course

OREGON PRESBYTERY.—The Presbytery of Oregon convened in this city on Thursday evening last. The exercises of the occasion were commenced with a sermon delivered by Rev Theodore Crowl, of Seattle, Washington Territory, from the text "Thy kingdom come Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven." The discourse was a vigorous exposition of the necessity of praying and working for the advancement of the kingdom of God. At the close of the discourse the Presbytery called the Rev A L Lindsley Moderator, Rev A L Lindsley called the Presbytery to order and Rev J R Thompson was chosen Clerk.

The following persons were present: Rev Drs Lindsley and Geary Messrs T Whitworth D K Nesbitt, T Cheadle, J R Thompson, Theodore Crowl John Rea and R Stewart, all of whom were ministers, and General Babbitt, Wm Templeton and Robert Chalmers, Elders.

Letters from the Eastern Presbyteries, dismissing missionaries to the Presbytery of Oregon, were read, and the names of the gentlemen referred to, added to roll.

The minutes of the last session, held at Olympia, were next read and after the appointment of various committees, the Presbytery adjourned to meet on Friday morning.

On Friday morning half an hour was spent in devotional exercises after which the Presbytery was constituted in due form, the Moderator in the chair.

The Rev George Ross, of the Presbytery of Turiff, Scotland, handed in a certificate license from the Presbytery, which was placed among the official documents.

A Committee on Standing Rules, consisting of Dr. Lindsley, Rev D K Nesbitt and Gen Babbitt, was appointed, and instructed to report at the next meeting of the Presbytery, after which a judicatory recess was resolved upon, and various interesting topics discussed until noon recess.

The Presbytery assembled at 2 o'clock again the Moderator resuming the chair. A report of the Committee on Docket was received, and the Committee was then discharged.

The various subjects of Colporteure, Theological and Secular Education, and Finance were each thoroughly discussed and referred to committees to draft appropriate resolutions.

The following resolution, bearing upon the subject of Fraternal Co-operation with sister Churches, was unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to consider the question of inviting the co operation of the United Presbyterian Church in the support and management of the Albany Collegiate Institution.

The following committee was appointed to report at the next meeting of the Presbytery: Drs A. L. Lindsley, E R Geary and Rev. D. K Nesbitt.

A committee, consisting of Revs Rea and Nesbitt, was next appointed to prepare a paper to be laid before the Board of Home Missions on the [illegible] of an Itinerant Missionary in the Presbytery, the committee to report before the close of this session.

Several ministerial brethren of sister Churches being present, they were cordially invited to take seats as corresponding members: Rev. Dr. Atkinson, of the Congregational Church, Rev. W. E. Stewart, of the United Presbyterian Church, Rev. H. Gans, of the Lutheran Church, and Elder Chalmers, of the U. P. Church.

Interesting religious services were held at the Church last evening, after which the Presbytery adjourned until this morning at 9½ o'clock.

PORT ORFORD.—Some time ago an application was made by Major Robert to the authorities at Washington for a sum of money out of the general appropriation made by the Government for the improvement of rivers, bays and harbors on the northwest coast. The object of the application was to obtain a sufficient sum to enable him to make a preliminary examination and survey of the bay of Port Orford, with a view of ascertaining the feasibility of the project of creating that place a port of refuge to vessels in case of storms or a heavy stress of weather. The Department has, in compliance with his request, set apart or made a special appropriation of eight hundred dollars for that express purpose. Major Robert, accompanied by Captain West, will start for Port Orford some time next week. He will make a personal examination of the harbor, determine its general adaptability for the proposed object, ascertain the average rise and fall of the tides, the prevailing direction of the winds, and the continuance and violence of the storms which visit that coast. In the course of his inspection he will consult with old residents of that portion of the coast and various masters of vessels who have cruised up and down the coast for years, and frequented that port. If from a preliminary examination, Mr Robert deems the project sufficiently feasible to warrant the expenditure of the necessary sum of money to make the surveys and complete the work required to constitute it a safe port for the use of all kinds of vessels, he will recommend to the Government an appropriation for that purpose.

STRANGE ROBBERY.—From the Enterprise we learn that a most extraordinary robbery was committed last Wednesday at Oregon City. Mr S D. Pope, who has a store adjoining the Court House, deposited a purse containing about two hundred and twenty-five dollars in a drawer which is in the center of the counter, and in a position which could only be reached either over the counter or by passing half the length of the store behind it. Both Mr Pope and the clerk state positively that one or the other of them was in the store all the time previous to the money being taken. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon Mr Pope had occasion to go to the drawer and get some money out when he first missed the purse. There are all kinds of surmises as to how the thieves could dare to commit such a bold robbery in broad day light and in one of the most public places in the town. There has been no clue obtained as to whom the guilty party could be. We hope it may be ascertained and brought to light.

BIENNIAL INSANE REPORT.—Dr A D Ellis, Visiting Physician for the State Insane Asylum, near East Portland, has filed his biennial report in the office of the Secretary of State, which exhibits the facts and figures: The whole number of patients admitted during the past two years is 138. Whole number of patients treated in the hospital during that time, 240, of which 181 were males and 69 females. The whole number of patients discharged, 75, of which 27 were females. Number of deaths, 18, of which 3 were females. Whole number in the hospital at the present time, males 119, females 48, total 167. The nationality of the patients is somewhat diversified, although 115 of them were born in this country. Of the patients now in the hospital 62 are considered curable, 79 incurable, and 26 doubtful. The per cent of the recoveries for the past two years has been 42½ per cent, while the percentage of the deaths during the same period has been [illegible] per cent.

STEAMERS, ETC.—For the present about 200 tons will be left in the hull of the bark Navigator as ballast.

The bark Monitor is ready to receive cargo.

The steamer Senator has been laid up at Oregon City for repairs, which were much needed. The boilers are reported to be out of order and require a number of new tubes. Her cabin will also be remodeled.

The steamer E N Cooke will continue to ply regularly between Oregon City and this place during the time the Senator is undergoing repairs.

The steamer Jane McNear is ready to take the line again when occasion may require. She has been thoroughly overhauled at the boneyard.

The Annie Stewart is undergoing a thorough overhauling at the foot of Taylor street.

ACCEPTED.—The project, specifications, plans, etc., for the construction of a new dredger for the removal of obstructions from the channel of the Wallamet, which were forwarded to Washington some time ago for the approval of the authorities, have been accepted and returned. In a short time sealed proposals will be advertised for the construction of the boat and several large scows to be used in connection with the dredger. A portion of the machinery peculiar to the boat and also the right to use such machinery, will be purchased of parties in New York. The boilers and steam engines however, necessary to be used will be manufactured here. As soon as possible after the approval of the bids, work will be commenced, and the new dredger will probably be ready to commence operations next spring.

AT WORK.—The dredger, since the resumption of work, has been in operation at Swan Island. By direction of Major Robert, the dredger will transfer its field of operations, in a short time, to the mouth of the Wallamet. A superficial examination of the channel at that point, has disclosed the probable existence of some obstructions to the navigation of the river by steamships and sailing vessels drawing a large depth of water. A more careful and thorough inspection will be made, and whatever may be discovered at the mouth of the stream, will be removed at once by means of the dredger.

NOT HEARD FROM.—About a month since, Major Robert forwarded to the authorities at Washington a project for the improvement of the channel of the Upper Columbia at several points, for the expenditure of the sum of $50 000, appropriated for that purpose by Congress. The plans as submitted have not yet been heard from but an answer containing their acceptance, and also accompanying instructions, are soon expected from the Department.

TAURUS VS BRUIN.—An animated combat occurred the other day between one of the bears kept at the East Portland Park and a young bull. For a few moments hair and bull's hide flew lively around and bruin received some rough prods from taurus horns. But the latter animal soon gave it up as a bad job, and took to inglorious flight carrying away many scratches and leaving behind various pieces of epidermis scattered about.

CROWDING THROUGH.—For the last week or more Oro Fino Theater has been undergoing the most thorough and complete renovation. As the season commences this evening the work of arranging and repainting scenery has been crowded as rapidly through as possible. Several persons were busily engaged nearly all night to have everything ready and in good working condition for the grand opening of the season this evening.

FAST DRIVING.—Those addicted to the habit of riding and driving rapidly will learn some time that there is an ordinance in force against the practice. Two more fellows were nabbed last evening by the police for converting the streets into a race course. One gave the required bonds and the other passed the night in the city jail. Both cases will probably be called this morning if Judge Denny is able to hold court.

FOR ALBANY.—The members of Engine Company No 1 will pay a friendly visit to the members of the Fire Department at Albany on next Thursday, 12th inst. The Chief Engineer of this Department and a few invited guests will accompany Willamette Company No 1. From the papers published at Albany we learn that the fire company there will enter into no contest with their visitors on the occasion.

ANNUAL SURVEY.—Mr S O L Potter, by direction of Maj Robert, started down the river last Monday morning to make the annual survey of the mouth of the Columbia, about Sand Island and Point Adams. An annual survey is made every year of the mouth of the river, to ascertain and guard against the changes, if any, which may have occurred in the channels, bank line, sand bars, etc.

FINE PLUMS.—J H Lambert, residing near Milwaukie, has placed on our table a box of plums, of a variety known as the "Egg Plum." These plums are, without exception, the largest specimens of that well known fruit, which we have ever yet seen, being in size fully twice as large as an ordinary hen's egg. In richness of flavor, the fruit is up to that of the most favorite varieties.

ARCHDIOCESE OF OREGON.—On Thursday, July 25, 1872, His Grace, Mgr Cataoni, Archbishop of Ancyra, in part. inf. raised to the holy order of priesthood, the Rev Bertrand Orth and the Rev Louis Verhaag, at Louvaine, Belgium. Both of these gentlemen are destined to labor in the Archdiocese of Oregon, where they will no doubt soon arrive. So says the Sentinel.

COUNTY COURT.—The County Court did nothing yesterday but audit numerous claims against the county—principally those of the several Justices of the Peace in the city. The Court will be in session to day. Monday the Court will resolve itself into a Board of Equalization, and proceed to officially examine the assessment rolls for the present year.

QUICK TIME.—The Sentinel says Miss August Funk arrived here by the Ajax last Wednesday evening, direct from Dantzig, Germany, which place she left one month ago. Considering that the city of Dantzig is in the most eastern part of Prussia, the trip via Bremen, New York and San Francisco, was made in most remarkably quick time.

STOOD THE TEST.—The boiler of the steamer Marie Wilkins was inspected yesterday by Inspector Lotan. The boiler was subjected to a hydrostatic pressure of 150 pounds to the square inch, and stood the severe test without starting a bolt. She was allowed to carry one hundred pounds of steam.

SERVICES, ETC.—Divine services will be held at the Presbyterian Church this morning immediately on the convening of the Presbytery. An evening session of this ecclesiastical body will be held this evening, when it is expected to bring its labors to a close.

MONTHLY MEETING.—There will be a monthly meeting this (Saturday) evening of the Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department at the usual place of meeting at 8 o'clock.

ARRIVED.—The steamer Geo S Wright arrived yesterday from Gray's Harbor with the party of excursionists. She will have quick dispatch for Sitka and way ports.

DEPARTED.—The steamer California departed last evening for Sitka and way ports. The Ajax will sail for San Francisco this morning at seven o clock.

PASSENGERS.—The Oneonta brought down a number of passengers from up the Columbia last evening, including several members of the Legislature.

STILL UNWELL.—Judge Denny is still too unwell to hold court. Several cases which are on the docket, were postponed yesterday morning.

LOCAL BREVITIES

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN a capital number, now ready in wrappers to send to friends in the East.

Last Sunday afternoon, Rev J F Fierens V G, received into the Catholic Church Mr Chas M Patterson.

The topic of conversation among the firemen is the coming election for Chief Engineer, which promises to be lively.

PERSONAL.

Col Iohrie took his departure last evening on the steamer for Victoria.

Mr J S Kast, of the firm of Kast & Richards leaves on the Ajax for San Francisco to buy new goods.

Judge C H Murdock, of Cincinnati, Ohio, J L Hogg of New York, Dr Brooks of the United States army and Samuel Suttrie, Inspector of Hulls and Boilers for the Pacific coast, are all sojourning in the city.

AMUSEMENTS

A new dramatic season will be inaugurated this evening at Oro Fino Theater. The great play of Shakespeare, 'Macbeth,' will be produced as the opening piece. From the judicious distribution of the characters in the cast the number, talent and strength of the troupe and the very superior manner in which it is to be put on the stage, it is safe to predict that the play will be produced in a style very far in advance of any former rendition in Portland. Those who admire the legitimate drama should not fail to attend this evening.

Nature's Appeals for Help

Every indication of debility and exhaustion is a mute appeal of Nature for additional aid to arrest the progress of decay. How are these silent appeals of physical weakness to the resources of the healing art usually met? Too often unfortunately the drugs prescribed aggravate the symptoms. Whoever recommends drastic purgatives or mineral salivants or poisonous alkaloids, under such circumstances is an ally of the ailment and an enemy of the patient. Whoever, on the contrary, advises the broken down and desponding sufferer to resort to that peerless vegetable invigorant Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for aid and comfort is a true philanthropist. It is safe to say there never was an instance in which such advice was given and accepted without the best results. From the very depths of weakness and despondency thousands have been restored to vigor health and cheerfulness by the renovating operation of this wholesome stimulant and alterative. All its medicinal ingredients are remarkable for their sanative properties and in combination form an absolute specific for indigestion liver complaint nervous affections rheumatism intermittent and remittent fevers, general and local weakness and every species of disorder incident to change of season or climate. The stimulative element of this invaluable protective or restorative is not an impure excitant but the thoroughly rectified essence of sound rye admitted by all good chemists to be the most healthful of stimulants.

Riding Man Fashion

[illegible] LIZABETH [illegible]

The fashion of ladies side saddles for horseback riding was no[illegible] introduced for for a good and sufficient physical reason and my experience in equestrian exercise leads me to believe that the majority of women will always find the side saddle most comfortable for them

It is claimed that if the girth gives way a lady will have no [illegible] her horse but will be thrown to the ground She will however land upon her feet or at least upon one of them while if the girth gives way while she is using a man's saddle she will fall headdownward with one leg bent under her body and the [illegible] over the back of the horse In this position she is more likely to break some bones than in the other

We are told to be sure that in riding astride a lady would be able to keep a horseman's grip on her horse—and in case of a loose girth could hold her saddle in place I doubt this Our slender women are [illegible] women alike have no muscle I fancy even the wiry tendoned ballet girl would be unable to control the powerful muscles by which a vicious horse strives to burst the girth or take advantage of its becoming loosened to escape from his rider A well trained animal in event of such an accident will slacken his pace at once or even stop of his own will

And the majority of our women are too short to look well in riding astride they have not sufficient length of limb for the "horseman's grip" Any one who has seen a boy of ten on the back of a broad high horse with his legs spread at right angles can imagine the ridiculous appearance which most of our ladies will present in riding astride and if they practice this position how much it will affect their gate They will then, when walking present the comical appearance of an old sailor just off a long voyage who rolls along in the most absurd way with his legs wide apart

We shall have some hearty fun at the expense of these Amazons

When I hear a lady complaining of the "uncomfortable" and "twisted" position of side-ways riding, of feeling that her back is crooked," or that she is insecure I know she does not sit properly In the first place she must get a side saddle which fits her As some women are thin and some robust some with long limbs and some with short it follows that one form of side saddle will not be comfortable for every woman

Then she should take her seat firmly and evenly in the centre of the saddle, as if about to ride astride, and adjust the right leg in the most comfortable position possible, it must not be too much strained over to the left and may [illegible] be shifted a little more to the right after riding a short distance, and getting accustomed to the motion of the horse

I was once visiting some friends who lived on an isolated hill side farm, when my host, in using some machinery, met with a serious accident While his wife remained at his side applying cold water to the wound, I saddled a horse with a man saddle (there was no other at hand) and dashed off for the doctor

The road was deserted, so I naturally rode astride, but such a ride! On a hard trotting madly galloping plough horse, I went up and down the strong hill roads thinking that I should never come up with the doctor who had left his home and started on his rounds I caught him at last and turned him back fortunately in time, but I hardly know whether the patient or myself suffered the most for a day or two

I was then an accomplished equestrienne on the side saddle, and I resolved never to use any other

When living on the Cumberland mountain in Tennessee I rode constantly on horseback always with a side saddle, and my neighbors did the same. One girl whom I knew there rode on her brother's saddle frequently when ever her sister or mother was with her, and never rode [illegible]de, she placed her right leg in the same position as when she used her own saddle When I asked the reason for this, she replied only "'Pears like a gal couldn't ride man fashion noway!"

Now this healthy, hardy mountaineer had a beautiful womanly form, and was classically proportioned As she wore neither corsets, [illegible], nor hoop skirts, her figure could not be [illegible] and if she could not ride astride, what [illegible] can? I fancy that twenty miles [illegible] on a man's saddle, over a rough road, will convince almost any of our ladies that she can't do [illegible]ything "just as well as a man"

I have ridden with my baby in my arms up and down the mountain roads so steep that when my horse was climbing up, I had to lean forward until my cheek touched his mane, and when he was cautiously creeping down, I was obliged to lean back until the strain became insupportable In both positions I found the horn of the saddle a great help.

But the most trying situation of all was when, in the same country, I reached the ford of the little Collins river, 200 feet wide where usually the water was hardly up to the knees of a horse, and found it swollen by late rains and dashing along so swiftly that the horses could scarcely struggle through One of our party crossed first, and we saw that the water rose to his saddle in the middle of the ford It would be necessary to kneel on our saddles, and risk being swept off Every man in the party begged to relieve me of my baby—they feared that I could not possibly hold on him and steady myself—but he was too precious to be trusted out of my arms, and I knew I was a good swimmer

I had my saddle changed for one of theirs to have room for kneeling, and I looked well to the girth, the buckles and the straps had my boy firmly bound to me with a shawl then kneeling upon the saddle, my riding skirt tucked about me, my baby firmly clasped in my left arm and my right hand twisted in the mane of my horse, we safely made the perilous journey The intelligent animal had always been used to a slack rein and needed no control. She picked her way with the utmost care, and when at last we reached the bank I hung like a rag over her neck and [illegible] her, and felt better

I have not space now to give other experiences on this subject, but shall await with great interest the result of the experiment which some of our ladies mean to try in Central park I am anxious to know if they enjoy riding man fashion

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

FRIDAY EVENING Sept. 6 1872

Gold in New York to-day, 113¾

Portland Legal Tenders, 87½c buying; 88½ selling

A considerable sale of Wheat, 3,000 centals sacked and delivered in this market, is noted, at $1 40 per cental

The money market here and in San Francisco is quite close, with no immediate prospect of less stringency

The Spanish bark Manila has begun to receive her cargo of Wheat

From San Francisco papers we learn that the steamer Bienville burned at sea between New York and Aspinwall, had 680 tons freight for San Francisco including 2[illegible]0 000 lbs Lard 1[illegible] 000 lbs Butter 11 500 lbs Manufactured Tobacco, 200 cs Preserves, 115 Sewing Machines, 100 cs Firearms 330 cs Cartridges, 840 bxs Soap 300 pkgs Hardware 160 pkgs Agricultural Implements 290 pkgs Drugs, 100 cs Machinery besides small lots of Groceries for Aspinwall, including 2,300 galls Petroleum The Bienville was an extra steamer chartered by the Pacific Mail Company to supply a want felt by the inauguration of a tri monthly line between New York and San Francisco. This is the first disaster on the line for a long time

Receipts of Wheat at San Francisco so far are four times greater than for the same time last year

Walsh Hall & Co's Market Letter from Yokohama August [illegible]th, says An active business has been realized n good medium to choice Teas at rather lower prices for the former The second crop is arriving and compares unfavorably with previous receipts The exports from Yokohama from June 1st to date were [illegible] 388 000 lbs against 1 460 000 for the same time last year Following were the closing quotations Medium Teas $30@ 4 good medium $34@30 fine $40@45 finest [illegible] @50 choice $55 per picul

In a review of the business and financial situation of the Pacific Coast the Commercial Herald of San Francisco says The present comparative scarcity of funds can only be of short duration and must be followed by a corresponding plethory when we expect to see a reduction in interest rates to an extent that will vitalize our manufacturing industries of which there are several of paramount importance awaiting such action for their development Large amounts of foreign capital could be employed here with great advantage to lender and borrower and we believe the time is near at hand when Eastern capitalists will perceive the many opportunities for profitable [illegible] ment on the Pacific Coast

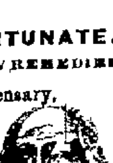
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhoea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial San Francisco where the patients and those requiring his services [illegible] find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitution disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to DR GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the faces furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case symptoms length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co. a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union

All communications strictly confidential

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary some of the self styled 'doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers, etc The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates, pretended patients letters, etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure
